

Large NJ-based Plastic & Reconstructive Surgery Group Welcomes Dr. Kari L. Colen to Practice

Hackensack, Oct 4, 2018 (IssueWire.com) - The Plastic Surgery Center is pleased to welcome Dr. Kari L. Colen to their practice. Dr. Kari L. Colen comes with over a decade of experience. Dr. Colen completed her plastic surgery training at the prestigious New York University Institute of Reconstructive Plastic Surgery. During her training, she authored numerous articles in plastic and aesthetic surgery and also helped design an interactive 3D surgical simulation model to better educate patients on plastic surgical procedures.

Her specialties, within plastic and reconstructive surgery, include advanced breast reconstruction following radiation, secondary breast procedures, which corrects failed reconstruction or cosmetic augmentation, and vaginal aesthetic surgery. Dr. Colen is also highly skilled in injectable treatments and liquid rhinoplasties.

“I believe every patient should be given all their options and have a doctor who can provide top of the line treatment,” Dr. Colen says about her patient philosophy, “Every patient’s story, history, and desires are different and the approach to caring for that person should be individualized.”

Dr. Colen will be remaining at her current office location in the Medical Arts Building of Hackensack

University Medical Center. The Plastic Surgery Center is proud to add one of NJ's top female plastic surgeons to their roster.

The large NJ-based practice is comprised of 15 plastic and reconstructive surgeons and has recently expanded to both the New York and Philadelphia metropolitan areas.

In addition to traditional cosmetic surgeries and injectable treatments, The Plastic Surgery Center uniquely houses The Institute for Advanced Reconstruction, specializing in revolutionary nerve procedures, as well as world-class reconstructive treatments.

The Plastic Surgery Center is a distinguished private practice encompassing 15 plastic and reconstructive surgeons, and 22 office locations in NJ, NYC, and PA. The practice is distinguished by the outstanding training and backgrounds of our top plastic surgeons. Between them, the team of doctors has more than 50 years of combined experience performing facial, skin, and body cosmetic surgery. They offer leading edge cosmetic and reconstructive procedures and have developed a number of innovative surgical techniques offered at few other facilities in the world.
