

Rising Philadelphia Rap Star Lado Fire Drops Single “Yallinnuhwae” From Upcoming EP ‘Penthouse Music

Old school and new rap styles blend together in a way that can't help but win over even the most hardcore of rap listeners. That's exactly what Philadelphia's Lado Fire delivers fiercely in his new single “Yallinnuhwae” that just hit the streets.

Philadelphia, Oct 29, 2018 (IssueWire.com) - In a city known for rough and raw rap music, rapper, singer, and performer Lado Fire is showing fans something special. Possessing a fierce flow, and sometimes fun, sometimes dark attitude the signed to independent Penthouse Music Gang label artist recently announced the release of his latest single “Yallinnuhwae”, which is sure to build anticipation for his new EP “Penthouse Music” to be available across all platforms soon. Critics exposed to Fire's work predict it will have a huge impact on the city's music scene, if not the national one, with few matching his combination of skill and authenticity.

“I have been paying my dues and honing my craft for myself and my city,” commented the passionate artist. “That's all coming together now with the help of the team at Penthouse Music Gang and first my new single 'Yallinnuhwae' as the jab that will be followed by the knockout blow of my coming EP 'Penthouse Music'. Be prepared for pure fire.”

In the city that has produced the likes of Meek Mill, Cassidy, and Beanie Sigel to name just a few, Philadelphia has never accepted second place when it comes to urban music with an edge. Lado Fire continues the tradition with raw lyrics, a mesmerizing flow, and unspoken charisma that can't be faked. His beat choice has been right on spot, with melodies mixed in with trap and even some old-school beats to keep listeners guessing which direction the creative rising rap star will move in next.

Chris S., from Philadelphia, recently said in a five-star review, “The new song from Lado Fire 'Yallinnuhwae' is knocking people off their feet. It's crystal clear this is from the streets, honest, and almost impossible not to be banging in the crib or the car constantly. Philadelphia rap and hip-hop have never left, and Lado Fire proves that point with a vengeance. I can't wait for the EP.”
