

Renowned Artist Michael D'Orazio Is Back to Please You with His Gothic Tracks

Music that sticks to your heart is rare to come by these days. But Michael D'Orazio is one such artist who never fails to wow us with his gifted talent in music.

also to reduce you to tears with his amazing synchronization of melodies. But to an extent, good music depends on the artist who is composing it. And Michael D'Orazio is one such artist whose music is made to bring you to your knees with its intense and sad lyricism. He is unlike the artist that you come around every day. His albums 'Darker by the Day' and 'Vampire De Musica' are the two collections that you need to add to your music collection. These albums consist of several super hit tracks but two exceptionally tracks that needs special attention are 'Darker by the Day' and 'Long Way Down \(robot mix\)'.

His song 'Darker by the Day' is about the truth that of human's life that is heartbreaks. All the emotional turmoil that one goes through is inscribed in this song. If by the end of the track you are not hooked to this then something is really wrong with you. The song is recorded in the classical, style you can hear the hard-hitting grudges and his voice is amplified bringing out the nostalgic effect. The other track 'Long Way Down (robot mix)' has insane crazy remixes of diverse tunes. This track provokes a certain level of thinking and reflects the artist's mental health and his most deep feelings. The personal outpouring of frustration feels very real and this is what makes the track so relatable. Some of Michael D'Orazio other tracks are 'The Revenge Fantasy' 'Sowing the Seed' 'Hell Hole' 'My Nightmare' etc.

As an individual, Michael D'Orazio is a brilliant artist but his talent is not understood by all. He had worked hard enough to get the place he has achieved among others in the music industry.
