

The Violinist Who Was Hand-Picked For the Billion-Dollar Ambani Wedding

One who has been seen regularly in the Ambani pre-wedding and wedding reception was the violinist – Sandeep Thakur

Mumbai, Dec 21, 2018 (Issuewire.com) - This December month, Mumbai stood witness to a lavish wedding ceremony that was taken to a whole new level – The Ambani Wedding. The wedding reception was held at the Jio Garden, a venue that was transformed into a fairy-tale setting attended by the who's who of Bollywood and world political bigwigs.

For entertainment at the ceremony, a host of musicians put on an impressive show for the bride, groom and other lucky attendees. But the one who has been seen regularly in the Ambani pre-wedding and wedding reception was the violinist – Sandeep Thakur.

Sandeep Thakur's popularity has made him the go-to artist for private parties, elite weddings, and corporate events. His mastery over the violin and the finesse with which he plays English, Bollywood and new age electronic tunes make him one of the most coveted violinists in the country. This was evident when he was chosen to perform at the most flamboyant wedding so far - the wedding of Isha Ambani and Anand Piramal. Sandeep's YouTube videos and melodious violin covers have generated huge views and reviews globally.

Sandeep Thakur strongly believes music should be a passion rather than a hobby. His goal has been to popularize the instrument and ignite a desire among the masses towards playing the violin.
