

New upcoming Las Vegas artist

North Las Vegas, Feb 7, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - JBlak Wilson was born on June 18th 1984 as Keith Rashaun Wilson Jr. in Seattle, Washington. He is also known as JBlak Wilson and "Mr. Presidential". JBlak is from the streets of Seattle, he is of both Native American and African American descent. JBlak has released several projects in 2012, and recently released his new project titled "Caution There's Money 2 Be Made". Starting small but thinking big, hip-hop mogul JBlak Wilson is one of rap's top indie acts: known for his street-hustler background. JBlak started his own graphics company JBlak Designz, creating flyers, logos, album covers etc. JBlak also started a production company, JBlak Filmz where he directs and produces his own videos as well as other artists' videos. Presently he is working on his very first movie. Still a local favorite JBlak is now moving onto the next plateau partnering with Childsplay Kidd, Kush Shakur and Yungg Bleeze to build "SEAMOB Entertainment", creating a brand where he can help develop and educate other artists on steps they can take to get themselves out in the music community while preparing them for the entertainment industry. Along with having inspired many rappers who have not had his opportunities, he is helping them become better artists. He also does a lot of things in his community such as a car show/BBQ for the past 5 years and feeding the homeless during the holidays. The future for JBlak as a businessman and artist is bright. Right now a Northwest tour is in process to promote SEAMOB Entertainment, as well as his clothing line "B.L.A.K." (Behave Like A King). Doing this will get his name out more than just locally. The sky's the limit, but JBlak is still growing and perfecting his craft as an artist.
