New York, Feb 22, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Dr Webb attended the Columbia University College of Dental Medicine, which provided many excellent outreach opportunities. After graduating Summa Cum Laude from Columbia he and his family moved to San Antonio, Texas, where he practised general dentistry in the United States Air Force. Then, Dr Webb completed an Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery (OMS) residency at Wilford Hall Medical Center, followed by a fellowship in Oral/Head and Neck Surgery at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

After completing his fellowship, Dr Webb moved to Vacaville, California to teach the OMS residents at David Grant Medical Center and to train the next generation of dentists through his military service. Dr Webb has dedicated himself to learn the necessary techniques that his patients require of him and has won several awards in the process. He has dedicated his life to both medicine and the military.

To stay current in his field, Dr Webb maintains professional memberships in several prestigious medical organizations, including the American Academy of Cosmetic Surgery as a Fellow. He believes in continuing his education and learning all the techniques and technologies possible to give his patients the highest standard of care.

As an oral and maxillofacial surgeon, Dr Webb is a unique dental specialist who can provide emergency medicine, perform general surgery and give anaesthesia. These medical doctors are the only type of medical care specialist who can administer anaesthesia, besides anesthesiologists. Typical procedures performed by Dr Webb are tooth extractions, especially wisdom teeth, corrective jaw surgery, cleft palate surgery and reconstructive surgery after an injury. Oral and maxillofacial surgeons can also perform dental work including placing dental implants. These surgeons might also deal with conditions of sleep apnea, oral cancers and more.

Dr Webb's career has given him the experience that makes him a superior oral and maxillofacial surgeon. He enjoys caring for each and every one of his patients and providing them with top-notch care. When he is not seeing patients, he enjoys spending time with friends and family members.
