

Carrowroad.net new online resource for Norwich City Football News

Carrowroad.net is a new online resource for Norwich City Football News. Here you can read and write about Norwich City Football news.

Norwich, Mar 11, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Carrowroad.net is run by a number of Norwich City Football Club Fans for the benefit of City Fans. They are always welcome new authors and have featured a number throughout the years. The site over time has changed hands due to personal and family commitments, but the love of Norwich City Football remains strong.

The main author behind the news pages is site owner and manager Richard. As a Northern Canary Richard retains strong family and work ties with the area. When not following his beloved Norwich City Richard can be found 'playing trains' as a keen scale modeller in his spare time it helps unleash the creative side that football at Carrow Road over the years has not always fulfilled! His modelling exploits can be found over on his personal site 'What The Hull'

With all his family having strong ties to the area Richard is somewhat of an exile having lived in East Yorkshire since September 2000, however he retains a love for the club and attends as many Norwich matches as he can every season.

The articles on this site are written by supporters of Norwich City Football Club also known as The Canaries Football Club, They do not claim to be professional writers or reporters what so ever, and are simply doing this because of our love for the club.

If you fancy joining the writing team you are always more than welcome. Be it for the love of the game, or wanting to break into journalism all contributions that are non-political are always more than welcome.
