Alexandria, Mar 28, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Network Communications Corp., (Network Communications), a global communication agency based in Asakusa, Tokyo, and the Washington DC Area, today announced the conclusion of a business tie-up contract with Our Athletes, a company in New Jersey, USA, which supports promotion of American Olympic athletes and Hopefuls to secure sponsorship deals and opportunities.

Since Network Communications launched "Yeah Go!", which provides athletes and public figure management services in June 2018, Network Communications is contributing to the expansion of opportunities for athletes and public figures. Currently, Network Communications is managing one professional windsurfer, four shoot boxing fighters, and one comedic storyteller.

Network Communications' business alliance with Our Athletes means further expansion of its activities to North America. As the upcoming 2020 Tokyo Olympic Games is approaching closely, as part of expanding the awareness of Japanese and American athletes who need support, the business tie-up of Network Communications and Our Athletes will strengthen matching support of companies that aim to grow their brand values.

Currently, we are actively offering opportunities to corporations and individuals to sponsor athletes who work hard every day in the highly competitive sports circle so that they can receive assistance and the support they deserve to pursue their dreams.
