

Poised For Growth, Chatter Buzz HQ Moves To The Heart of Downtown Orlando

Expansion plans prompt relocation as the agency looks towards the future.

Orlando, Mar 15, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Award-winning digital marketing agency, Chatter Buzz is bringing the buzz to Downtown Orlando. The tech-creative, Orlando based agency has a new home in Thornton Park, one of Orlando's most popular and historic neighborhoods. Located at 1218 E Robinson St, Orlando, FL 32801, the new multiple-floor office boasts more than 4800 square feet, a multi-level working space which includes a second-floor open office area, several conference rooms, a video production studio, private offices, and an outdoor balcony overlooking Downtown Orlando's growing display of skyscrapers.

"It's all about growth and visibility for us," explains Shalyn Dever, CEO of Chatter Buzz. The digital marketing agency was founded in 2012 and launched with a desire to bring innovative digital marketing to businesses and brands of all sizes from a variety of industries. Since then, the agency has grown to a team of more than forty people including a legion of contractors and remote workers.

The company's tagline: We Grow Brands Without The Guesswork serves as the guiding principle for their approach to digital marketing services. Their nearly 10 years of experience in the digital marketing space makes them an experienced, competitive and a top-rated local agency with a national impact that aims for 25%-30% growth this year.

In addition to its award-winning creative and digital work, the agency is proud to be a minority-owned and operated business. “An inclusive environment is one that benefits not only our team and staff but also is a unique selling point for brands and companies that target increasingly diverse groups with products and services. Our community and clients are as diverse as we are as a team,” says Mya Leon, COO of Chatter Buzz.
