Get to know Orthopedic & Hand Surgeon Dr. Shawn A. Wilson, who serves the population of Virginia.

New York City, Apr 10, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Fellowship-trained hand surgeon, Dr Shawn Wilson serves his patients in Virginia specializing in injuries of the wrist and hand and upper extremity trauma.

Dr Wilson currently practices at the Virginia Orthopaedic and Spine Specialists and is affiliated with Bon Secours Maryview Medical Center. Virginia Orthopaedic & Spine Specialists (VOSS) is a medical group made up of experts who focus on the best patient experience from start to finish – and the results that get patients back to everyday life. Their specialists work closely with patients, from discussing their condition and options to treatment and recovery. These comprehensive surgeries, combined with the latest minimally invasive procedures and positive outcomes, are exactly why physicians refer patients to Virginia Orthopaedic & Spine Specialists.

Dr Wilson's medical career began when he received his Bachelor of Science from Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, a Master of Science in pharmacology from Tulane University in New Orleans, Louisiana and his medical degree from Lincoln Memorial University, DeBusk College of Osteopathic Medicine in Harrogate, Tennessee. To further his knowledge and experience, Dr Wilson completed an orthopaedic surgery residency at Michigan State University and became affiliated Genesys Regional Medical Center in Grand Blanc, Michigan. Furthermore, he completed his training by finishing a hand surgery fellowship at Christine M. Kleinert Institute for Hand and Microsurgery, University of Louisville School of Medicine in Louisville, Kentucky.

To stay up to date in his field and continue to provide his patients with the best care possible, Dr Wilson remains a professional member with several associations such as the American Society for Surgery of the Hand, American Association for Hand Surgery, American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, and the American Osteopathic Academy of Orthopedics.

Growing up New Orleans, Louisiana, he received an Eagle Scout award, developed a liking for water sports, the outdoors, live music, and Cajun food. During his free time, Dr Wilson enjoys spending time with his wife and two children.
