Core Values

Sunbelt's Core Values reflect our organization's cultural values and govern our day-to-day decisions and behaviour.

Integrity

We revere honesty and forthrightness. We adhere to the highest ethical standards, provide timely, accurate and complete financial reporting, encourage prompt disclosure of bad news and welcome disagreement.

Golden Rule

We respect others and treat them in the way that we want to be treated.

Objectives

We clearly state and share our objectives with our employees, franchisees, shareholders and others. We measure our performance against these objectives and react to new information, changes and opportunities by adjusting our business processes to achieve and surpass our objectives.

Excellence

We are committed to continuously improving our performance in order to meet and exceed the expectations of our franchisees, customers and investors/owners. We reward our people for improving service quality and reducing costs.

Profit

Earning a profit rewards our investors/owners and enables us to attract necessary capital for further investment in our people and operating processes.

Why Choose Sunbelt Philippines

No matter what size of business you are looking to buy, we have the expertise and resources you require. Our brokers follow a proven process that protects both buyers and sellers. It is their job to get the right questions asked and answered and to help both parties achieve their goals.

Are You Thinking About Buying a Business?

If so, you may have wondered: How will I know if a business is right for me? How will I finance the purchase? How do I mitigate the risks?

Sunbelt sells more privately owned businesses than anyone else does in the world.

Statistics show that owning your own business is the fastest way to financial independence, while also creating the lifestyle and liberty that goes with successful business ownership. And if you're wanting to go into business, purchasing an existing successful business with trained employees, existing client and supplier relationships, a proven concept and location can be your "Advance to GO" card.

Choosing the right business

We are discriminating about the businesses we offer and our business brokers have the experience, market knowledge and resources to help you find the right business to meet your needs. We will guide you through the self-analysis and early decisions about what size and type of business will work for you then help you assess the opportunities and your abilities to succeed. However, in the end, your choice of business should come down to one final factor—whether or not you can see yourself in your business.

Securing the Right Price and Terms

We help you understand the real value in the different businesses you look at, with the focus on how you find the right business for you. The businesses we offer are a price on a realistic market value of the assets and liabilities and the true earning capacity of the business.

It is common for deals to include a training and transition period where the previous owners work with the purchaser for a stipulated period, so building a relationship of trust and respect throughout the transaction has continued importance.

After all, it says and done, what you will be buying is the ability of the business to produce cash. Will it be sufficient to service your debt, support your lifestyle and provide a return on your invested capital?

Financing the Purchase

Our brokerage network has 30 years of experience arranging to finance for small- to medium-sized businesses, will help you understand your financing—, and hence purchasing— options.

Most business buyers depend on sellers taking back a percentage of the purchase price in the form of a loan. Through this financing arrangement, known as vendor take back or a seller's note, the buyer agrees to pay back the funds over time, with interest. The buyer realizes the lower risk, better terms and a greater commitment of the seller to ensure his or her success.
