

Adam Fuller Ellifritt Leaves Music to Lead the Wise

Music Industry Pioneer Starts Wisemen Media

Bend, May 11, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - The serial entrepreneur best known for his collaborations with Jesse Nemitz (JDF Records) announces his new startup.

Wisemen Media is Adam Ellifritt's latest venture and his confident return to the Marketing industry. After spending eight years building private enterprises under the umbrella of JD Fuller Corporation, the PNW entrepreneur has developed a new marketing system.

Using social media as the playing field, Adam's marketing system is a total juggernaut. The streamlined system provides supercharged automation to generate leads which then converts them into life long customers. The results are more predictable than any other method of marketing and it's this predictability that allows Adam and his team to guarantee the quality of their work.

The focus at Wisemen Media is simple:

- Social platforms are used to accelerate growth and increase engagement.
- Robust social ads are utilized in order to drive brand awareness, generate leads and sell products or services online or in store.
- Adam and his team work to produce results or they forego any compensation.

About Your Company: Wisemen Media provides top-notch digital marketing services for businesses, including social media, web design, and SEO. View them on the web at www.wearewisemen.com
