

CompanionLink Updates #1 Sync App 'CompanionLink for Google'

CompanionLink
Software

Portland, May 26, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - In yet another move to further its portfolio of software products, CompanionLink Software, a US based software firm, today updated the #1 Sync tool aimed at providing smooth and seamless synchronization between Microsoft Office Calendar and Google Calendar. The product named 'CompanionLink for Google' is designed to offer users an easy and fast syncing experience.

'CompanionLink for Google' takes Google Outlook sync to a whole new level by automatically synchronizing every single change made by users in either account. It offers users the option to sync calendar, contacts and tasks between the two. The App is easy to use and contains many useful features so it is worth giving a try.

If you use Microsoft Outlook and would appreciate having the capability to smoothly sync your Outlook Contacts, Calendar and Task data with your Google account, make sure to visit the URL <https://www.companionlink.com/google/outlook/> and buy this App by CompanionLink. You may download a 14-day free trial from the same link before finally deciding to go in for the purchase of its license.

General notes:

We do not use "user" in conjunction with software. It's a technical term that should not be used in marketing.

Hyperbole and exaggeration are fake, and will turn people off fast. All they need is a breath of fake-ness and it will kill product sales forever. Americans are highly suspicious of fake marketing materials produced overseas.

It is better to emphasize details and education than to exaggerate or use words like renown, immensely, avid. Don't tell the customer what to think. Tell them what the product actually does.
