

Producer Virgo At Work Is Presenting Structural Creativity of Lyrical and Rhythmic Arrangements

Music producer Virgo At Work is blending the best musical flavors of distinctive musical strides in his soundscape through mellifluous rhythmic patterns and notes.

Florida City, Dec 31, 1969 (Issuewire.com) - Music producer Virgo At Work is cultivating the obscurity of musical association with some of the most captivating consequential songs of the extant musical time zone. His newly released singles 'F.O.T.N' and 'Late Night Thoughts' in creative collaboration with fellow hip-hop exponents Quest The Rebel and Rebel Aim are culturally enriched in their collective lyrical and melodic essence. Virgo At Work being the central herald of unified creativity has blended in the good virtues of musical resurgence and paved the way for exemplary hip-hop glazes with 'F.O.T.N' and 'Late Night Thoughts'.

Hailing from New York, Stanley Pageot, popularly known as Virgo At Work has always had his musical acceptance uninhibited and this exposure has helped him formulate his distinctive style of creative freedom. Working under the label name Tranzformaz Music Group/Universal Music Group, his scope of versatility in terms of analogical interpretations of sounds and lyrical arrangements is truly fascinating. Some of the biggest names in the industry including Pharrell, Timbaland, J.Dilla, Pete Rock, and Kanye West and others have helped him imbibe the best linearity of musical appropriation that paved the way for other songs like 'Shine' and 'Wake up Call'.

Virgo At Work is already integrating with various artists on their solo and group albums as well as lending his creative hands on his own production album. His goals to spread his wisdom through teaching about music production have made his scope all the more profound. Listen to this cultural redemption of music by following his work on Spotify, Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and Soundcloud right away.
