

Car Models Of Braidwood Expands Inventory Of 1:50 Scale Model Cars

Sydney, Sep 8, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Model cars have been beloved by children and adults for years, however, the selection of 1:50 scale models have been more limited than the standard 1:43 scale. That limited selection has changed with the recent announcement that Car Models of Braidwood has expanded their inventory of 1:50 model cars.

When collecting model cars, it really comes down to the passion of the collector. Model cars have been designed to represent the overall scale of a standard life-sized vehicle. What this means is that if you were to take the standard 1:43 size model, it would take 43 of them to equal the size of the real vehicle.

Level of Detail

With the 1:50 models, the level of detail is really amazing. Vehicles such as front end loaders, tractors, and excavators are some of the more popular models currently in high demand. When playing with the 1:50 scale models, children are able to really feel confident in their ability to manipulate the models.

Collectability

The 1:50 scale models are highly collectable. Many manufacturers are not producing this scale of models, and the limited production runs and availability make what is produced highly collectable. For those looking to start a collection or to build a collection beyond the 1:43 scale, this is the next level of detail they can expect.
