Get to know Family Physician Dr. Thaddeus K. Lynn, who serves patients in Atlanta, Georgia.

New York City, Sep 19, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Lynn is a board-certified family physician who is currently serving patients at his private practice - Doctor Thad - in Atlanta, Georgia. He strongly believes in a preventive approach to the practice of medicine and healthcare. For this reason, he encourages his patients to strive to reach their goals of being the healthiest and happiest that they can be. "First you hear, then you see, then you achieve a life of good health. We want to remove the walls between you, prevention and wellness. Nothing on this earth should prevent you from enjoying a long life of good health and wellness” as stated on his practice’s website.

Dr. Lynn proudly serves his country as a doctor for Georgia’s State Representatives and Senators at the Georgia State Capitol in Atlanta. He is also an attending physician at Emory University Hospital Midtown, Atlanta Piedmont Hospital, and Atlanta Medical Center. He is affiliated with Children’s Hospital of Atlanta.

Dr. Lynn is a native Atlantan. He graduated cum laude with a Bachelor of Science (BS) degree in Biology and a minor in Chemistry from Morehouse College in Atlanta, Georgia. He then went on to earn his medical degree from The Ohio State University College of Medicine and Public Health in Columbus, Ohio in 1999. He conducted his internship in internal medicine at The Christ Hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio, followed by his residency in family medicine at Bronx-Lebanon Hospital in the Bronx, New York.

Dr. Lynn is an active member of the Georgia State Medical Association, the Georgia Academy of Family Physicians, the American Academy of Family Physicians, and the Atlanta Medical Association.

Dr. Lynn is board-certified in family medicine by the American Board of Family Medicine (ABFM). The ABFM is a non-profit, independent medical association of American physicians who practice in family medicine and its sub-specialties.

Family medicine, formerly family practice, is a medical specialty devoted to comprehensive health care for people of all ages; the specialist is called a family physician or family doctor. A family physician, like Dr. Lynn, is often the first person whom a patient sees when seeking healthcare services. They examine and treat patients with a wide range of conditions and refer those with serious ailments to a specialist or appropriate facility.
