

7NRG launches the world's first recyclable, pre and post-workout drink

Infused with broad spectrum water-soluble CBD

London, Oct 23, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - 7NRG launches the world's first recyclable, pre and post-workout drink infused with broad spectrum water-soluble CBD (THC Free). The packaging is patented and has been designed with a shaker ball inside, to help break down and mix the powders into a liquid formula. With natural anti-inflammatory properties, CBD has been proven to aid muscle recovery and will be the next global disruptor in the fitness industry. Based in London, UK, 7NRG is a cannabinoid and supplement company founded by Joel Grayson. Joel is a former investment manager, now health and fitness enthusiast-turned-entrepreneur to address a clear void in the market.

Created for the modern wellness consumer, the innovative beverage utilises CBD from the finest hemp plants sourced from the USA. The brand uses a whole plant CO2 extraction process which filters out unnatural and unwanted substances. This maximises the quality, purity and concentration of 7NRG CBD. 7NRG CBD is non-psychoactive. The brand takes quality and transparency very seriously and tests each and every one of their products in a third-party laboratory to ensure its consistency and quality. Consumers can access these lab reports by scanning the QR code found on every product.

‘At 7NRG our vision was to create a convenient, on-the-go, pre and post-workout solution that would be compatible with fast-paced, modern-day lifestyles. We added CBD to create a truly unique product that would increase our customer’s endurance and recovery times when infused with energy and protein powders. Our purpose was to go that bit further, and with a global team of experts, we have created an infinitely recyclable packaging with a shaker ball inside. 7NRG will be available in the UK, Europe and across the United States.’ - Joel Grayson, Founder and CEO, 7NRG.

7NRG is available in two flavours: 7NRG PRE-WORKOUT Mango and Pineapple Flavour and 7NRG POST- WORKOUT CBD CHOCOLATE PROTEIN DRINK.
