Dr. Schulz passion for dentistry developed because he wanted to work with people to create health. Dentistry was a great way to combine his interest in science with his artistic abilities. “It is very gratifying to see the immediate result of a smiling happy patient.”

Patients have excellent experiences with him, one stating, “Dr. Schulz took on a pretty big project when I came in for a consult, as I required quite a bit of work and I was on a fixed budget. Rather than turning me away, as my own family dentist did, he worked out a plan to maximize the dental care I would receive with the budget I was on. I was amazed at how personable he and his wife are, they really are great people who are trying to do a good thing.”
