

Former Christian Sect Member Shares Compelling Story of Leaving

How one man liberated himself and sought meaning of abuse

I will Disentangle Myself ....
and Leave

Bob Williston

Pittsburg, Nov 21, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Inspired by the author's traumatic experience with a little-known Christian sect known as Two By Twos, this captivating book details a ministry's abuse and the relentless retribution the author endured for confronting the abusers. Eventually, after deciding not to endure the harassment any longer, he left and launched into a study to understand the dynamics of abuse in how religion is practiced. While it is not focused on theological inquiry, Robert Williston's *I Will Disentangle Myself ... and Leave* searches for a perspective from which one can evaluate the health of one's relationship with religion.

Robert was raised in Miramichi, New Brunswick, and was affiliated with the Two By Two group until he left the group in his fifties. He is a graduate of the University of New Brunswick, and his post-graduate schools have included Université Laval, Boston University, and College of Southern Nevada where he specialized in educational supervision, educational media, and religious studies. He made a career of teaching French and English languages, US history, and political science in several provinces of Canada and in Nevada. He interrupted his teaching career to serve a session in the Nevada legislature as secretary to the Senate Finance Committee. He is the author of several novels, as well as articles on child sexual abuse and emotional and spiritual abuse. He is now retired and lives in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Robert's well-written book sets itself apart from other testimonies of leaving abusive groups through an in-depth account of how he reached the place of peace that he had come to. It was not in the condemnation of religions, nor the exposure of ineptness of the Two By Two system. It was in gaining the self-worth and control to determine for one's self what you will believe without the abuse of coercion.

Robert's work will be exhibited at the Miami Book Fair Street Fair weekend, to be held at Miami Dade College (Wolfson Campus) in downtown Miami this coming November 22-24 at the Authors Press booth. You may meet the author personally at our booth starting at 10:30 a.m. on the 24th of November where he will be signing copies, with free giveaways.
