New York City, Nov 2, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Giannotti is a surgeon serving Chicago and the surrounding communities. He is affiliated with Amita Health, an award-winning health system committed to delivering compassionate care to nearly 6.6 million residents in Chicago and its surrounding suburbs.

As a faith-based health system in the respective Catholic and Adventist traditions, Amita Health is committed to delivering inclusive and compassionate care, communicating clearly with patients and their families, respecting the faith traditions of all people, and honoring the dignity of everyone they serve.

"I dedicate myself to providing the best medical and surgical care to my patients. I combine my experience, surgical technique, and understanding of diseases with compassion in order to best treat each individual. I ensure that my patients are well-informed of their options so they can be part of the decision-making process. A good doctor-patient relationship is integral in any successful treatment; each patient is unique and requires a personal approach to their management." stated Dr. Giannotti.

In regards to his education, Dr. Giannotti earned his medical degree from Creighton University School of Medicine. He went on to complete a residency at the Chicago Medical School Hospitals, a fellowship with the Jackson Memorial Hospital with the University of Miami, and an additional fellowship with the University of Illinois College of Medicine. Additionally, he completed his Post Doctoral Fellowship, as a Trauma and Surgical Critical Care Research Fellow with the Jackson Memorial Hospital.

Additionally, Dr. Giannotti is board certified in general surgery and surgical critical care by the American Board of Surgery (ABS). The ABS is an independent, nonprofit organization founded in 1937 to provide board certification to individuals who have met a defined standard of education, training, and knowledge in the field of surgery.

To stay up to date in his field, Dr. Giannotti remains a professional member of the American Society of Clinical Oncology, American College of Critical Care Medicine, American College of Surgeons, and a Fellow of the Society of Surgical Oncology.

Surgery is a medical specialty that uses operative manual and instrumental techniques on a patient to investigate or treat a pathological condition such as a disease or injury, to help improve bodily function, appearance, or to repair the human body. As a surgeon, Dr. Giannotti specializes in diagnosing, staging, and treating cancer-related symptoms. He will decide if the patient is a candidate for surgery or other cancer treatments based on certain factors such as age, physical fitness, and other possible coexisting medical conditions.

During his time in the field, Dr. Giannotti has treated thousands of patients.
