Ahmedabad, Dec 26, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Gujarat based company, Raw Material India, is all set to bring a revolutionary change in the industrial raw material industry with its newly launched online platform for B2B inquiry generation through its website <https://rawmaterialsindia.in/>

Raw Materials India, an online marketplace for industrial raw material announced its public launch. The Ahmedabad, Gujarat based company has been started with the mission to become the most preferred and convenient online platform for both sellers as well as buyers to deal in all types of industrial raw materials. Launched with the listing of 6500+ raw material products, the company aims to take this number to a much higher level in the coming months.

Talking about the company, its vision and the goals, Tejpal Kothari, Founder, and CEO said, "RMI in its endeavour will keep doing great value addition to this elite Online B2B Inquiry Marketplace to make Raw Materials Sourcing very convenient, and give buyers and sellers an impressive business experience. Buyers and Sellers can join Raw Materials India as Normal (Free) or Premium (Paid) Members and keep getting benefited."

Through this innovative and user-friendly platform, RMI provides buyers and sellers with exposure to the professionally-operated online marketplace. It will give sellers the ability to grow their network and business scope by connecting with the buyers not just in India but across the world and that too by sitting in their office.

How sellers will get benefitted from Raw Materials India:

RMI will provide a one-stop solution to the sellers where they can reach out to buyers across India and the world. The platform where they can showcase all their raw materials will help them get increased business exposure and unlimited business opportunities with unlimited business inquiries. Not just this, to ensure that every seller with each budget group gets ample opportunities, the company has given the option of both free and paid membership plans. Sellers will also get buyer details right in their mailbox and on mobile to quickly close the deals.

How buyers will get benefitted from Raw Materials India:

Not just the sellers, the online marketplace will also provide business opportunities to the buyers by helping them quickly find the right suppliers, manufacturers, and exporters for their raw material requirements. Buyers will get easy access to ready records with the details of inquiries in the free buyer account to quickly connect with the right suppliers of their products.

Registrations have already started on the newly launched website. Indian sellers of raw materials can now start listing their business on the website to get unlimited inquiries from the interested buyers.
