

Rich Woman Africa Magazine- The African Woman Re-imagined

lead by EDITOR IN CHIEF Evelyn Okpanachi

Abuja Federal Capital Territor, Apr 11, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Evelyn Okpanachi, from London, is the Editor- in- chief of Rich Woman Africa Magazine, a Broadcast Presenter and an advocate for women's recognition in society, opening a new path into prosperity and Business Success through communication, community and compassion. Evelyn is a great believer in building a world where women have the same opportunities as men and support them to implement business solutions that create sustainable wealth locally to access new markets and capital.

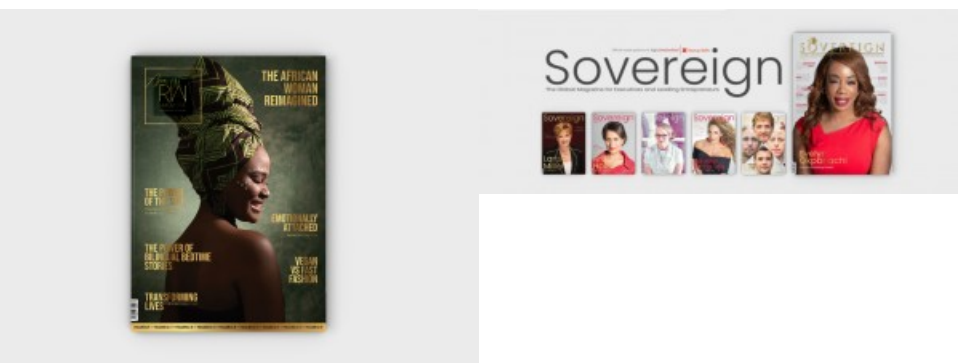

Her role is to encourage you to bring the good news, present information in an accessible and attractive way, and inspire you to build up a sense of your true identity. Evelyn is constantly on the lookout for new leadership stories, and with each tale, she brings the latest news according to the interview's subject matter: culture, well-being, lifestyle, health, business, travel, fashion, and its social impact.

Rich Woman Africa Magazine (RW Africa) communicates the values and identity of the Modern African Woman. Who is she? What does she like? What are the things which ignite her passion for life, for family and for her own happiness?

As we delve into this complex and fast-moving cultural revolution, we bring you the page-turning inside a track about the most influential woman who is leading the change in Africa and beyond!

As we connect you with purposeful leaders, we reveal their unique solutions to prosperity and success. We open the door into the lives of today's greatest achievers, executives, artists, thought leaders who in their own way are re-imagining the African Woman in all her glory!

Gala Evening to be hosted at the same time in Abuja Nigeria and London to launch Rich Woman Africa Magazine.
