He served as chief resident during his final year of residency.

Proceeding his training, the doctor became board-certified in family medicine by the American Board of Family Medicine, a non-profit, independent medical association of American physicians who practice in family medicine and its sub-specialties.

Family medicine is a medical specialty devoted to comprehensive health care for people of all ages. The specialist is called a family physician or family doctor. A family physician is often the first person whom a patient sees when seeking healthcare services. They examine and treat patients with a wide range of conditions and refer those with serious ailments to a specialist or appropriate facility.

On the subject of his personal life, Dr. Hanson grew up in St. Petersburg, the son of a primary care physician. He has 4 wonderful children. When he is not tending to his patients, he enjoys traveling, fishing, playing golf, doing fitness, and riding his bike.
