

Halmary Tea Now Available in the USA

Morristown, May 15, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Halmary, a famous tea gardening corporation from India, is broadening its outreach, making their products available to customers in the USA. This launch will pay heed to requests of several Indian communities based in the States, who have been expressing their desire for years, to get hold of exclusive tea from Assam.

Situated in the Moran town on the fertility-rich plains of North Assam, Halmary's lush tea garden has been feeding the whole country of its produce. With this launch in the USA, someone on the other side of the world can also reap the benefits of Halmary's wide variety of teas.

Regarding the launch, the CEO of this company said, "This is just the beginning. We have plans to widen our reach to the whole of the North American belt in the recent future. Eventually, we want to make sure we can deliver our product to a customer wherever they are on this planet."

Each year, several Indians set off for the US either for work purpose or to pursue higher education. Hence, the US are gradually experiencing the flavours of Indian culture. Besides spices, India is also known for varieties of tea production and Halmary brings the finest tea in the country.

The market of tea consumers in the USA is up for a grab and Halmary among other tea producers are on the right step. US citizens are known to consume more amounts of coffee than tea, but now with Halmary in the picture, statistics have a chance of possibility to change.

Adding to this, Halmari's spokesperson said, "Our main objective is to achieve global recognition. Our launch in the USA has taken successfully. As producers, we are both delighted and excited to provide our renowned product to a new community."

With this expansion, Halmari Tea is expecting a large boost in sales. Moreover, as an Indian Product, the comparatively reasonable rates, per standard of quality provided, are bound to cause a stir in the US tea market.
