The Los Angeles based artist Hailey Livingston is about to create a mark in the music industry with two of her fascinating tracks which deep realizations of life

North Hollywood, Dec 31, 1969 (IssueWire.com) - Some music is so enchanting and groovy that it can take away all the preconceived notions of the audience and transcend them into new realms. As for the current context, many artists reflect this quality through their music, the Los Angeles based artist Hailey Livingston also belongs to this category. This high-spirited artist has been the victim of many failed and tormenting relationship and instead of getting broke this has helped her to know life with a much deeper approach. Two of her latest tracks 'DANGEROUS' and 'CRICKETS', which are part of her debut album 'CLAP BACK', has gazed the attention of the audience sensibly.

Hailey Livingston started her professional career as an Emergency Dispatcher but the zeal in her to create something creative forced her to come into the world of music. She is ready with her fresh album 'CLAP BACK' which is intriguing and captivating. Here both the aforementioned tracks are as good as the other tracks of the album. In 'DANGEROUS' the talented rapper Alexander Watson assisted her to give a male perspective to the song and 'CRICKETS' seems an amalgamation of beautiful Rhythm and Blue and Pop. This talented artist runs all her artistic endeavors under the banner of Prismatic Entertainment.

Like other artists, Hailey Livingston also strives to create to entertain people and make them understand about the different planes of life.
