Fashion Designers:

Jules Handbags: Juliane Perretti Randazzo aka Jules, is a handbag designer born and raised on Staten Island, New York. Juliane is a graduate of NYC's prestigious Fashion Institute of Technology. In 2018, Juliane decided to pay attention to what was in her heart, and that was creating a line of handbags like no one had ever seen before. Inspired by the creations of Italian designers Braccialini and Piero Guidi, Juliane began the journey of developing her brand, Jules Handbags. Jules Handbags is all about the print! Juliane works closely with a highly skilled graphic artist who digitally refines the art Juliane created for the prototypes. The perfected scenes are printed onto Italian napa leather, vegan leather or satin and the handbags are assembled by hand in England using superior quality materials such as Riri zippers from Switzerland. Years ago she started creating unique hats and now she has a full accessories collection. Visit www.Juleshandbags.com

Kilame design by Pamela Quinzi: Italian design of One of a Kind Shoes and dresses designed by Celebrity Fashion Designer Pamela Quinzi. Unique pieces hand made. Cocktail dresses in silk, chiffon, and sequins, shoes with high heels full of embroideries, crystals, flowers, and beads. A princess style but for a modern independent and successful woman, not afraid to be seen and to show her look. An Art-Fashion collection of exclusive outfits with a couture touch that over the years made Pamela Quinzi's creations famous worldwide.

DoviArt is a child of a lifelong dream: Dovile was born in Lithuania. Since she was very young she loved to create and design. At 9 years old she was already watching on TV runway shows from Paris. Growing up she realized that she could transform her appearance with clothes, accessories, and makeup. She started sewing when she was 13 years old learning from her mom. For Dovile sawing was magic, she still remembers the first dress she made for herself. She has several degrees in Textiles - engineering and art. In the 90th life just threw opportunities to test her as a fashion designer creating stage costumes for a friend, a ballet dancer and her troupe, selling a children's collection to one of the biggest Lithuanian apparel factory, working also on her first runway collection. After that, she decided to leave for America and go to Chicago to learn English. In Chicago, she started a new life and after more than two decades she is now back to the fashion designs and she loves it. When she works on new designs, she feels alive, she can breathe incredible energy, for her to create is a dream. She creates wearable art. From a regular street outfit, she made it from unusual fabric, she adds lots of details, textures, materials and she creates incredible Fashion-Art pieces wearable, comfortable and user-friendly.
