

Boston Multi talented Artist 5ive Brings to you the Flavors of Contemporary Hip Hop and RnB in ‘Put It On You’

Boston multi talented artist 5ive has taken the world by storm with hip-hop-influenced R&B verses in her new single of eccentric creativity, ‘Put It On You’.

Boston, Mar 30, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Upcoming R&B artist 5ive is introducing the world of music to her deconstructions of thematic and musical senses with the release of the single, ‘Put It On You’. The song is an emotional saga that meanders along the course of its thematic growth and utilizes modern-day sound encryptions better than anything that you have listened to. The song extracts the outspoken virtues of hip-hop with R&B standing as the central foundation of musical expression. The result is a boisterous mix gradually opening its purposes as the song progresses from one verse to another. This song also stands out in terms of its visual coordination with a music video that is so refreshing that it defines the song with more than just superficial statements. The artist’s vocal fortitude and surprising rap verse towards the end of the song not only gives it a defined shape and edge but also pushes the creative boundary into trying something experimental.

5ive, born Melanie Nichole Halfkenny originally hails from Boston, Massachusetts is also a songwriter and an entertainer who has carved out her career entirely on hard-work and conviction. She started her journey with music from a very young age and over the years of cultural and artistic exposure, she discovered her sound and gave it an identifying factor of its own. A mother, a singer and songwriter, a lyricist, a dancer, a rapper, and a makeup artist, her life is a tremendous spectrum of self-motivation and experiences that also contributed immensely to her artistry.

The Boston multi talented artist 5ive has had her time on stage with live gigs and radio features throughout her career.
