

Brushwood Media Group and Lynn TV Productions Presents "The Lifeology Show with James Miller"

Lifeology™ is a half-hour, weekly television show that teaches practical life lessons and removes the belief that we are somehow different.

Los Angeles, Mar 30, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Brushwood Media Group, in Association with Lynn TV Productions, announced "The Lifeology Show with James Miller" is scheduled for production this summer. Several networks have shown interest for the fall lineup.

In each episode, James will give insight into why people act the way they do as well as teach practical tools and techniques that each viewer can use to live their best and fullest life. This positive programming reduces stigmas, breaks down stereotypes, and helps the audience realize that their neighbor whom they thought was different, is not so different after all. The goal for each episode is to tackle a universal struggle that people experience. As individuals' experiences are shared, it will be evident to the viewer that people are not as different as we thought. People will conclude the episode by learning new self-development tools and techniques to simplify and transform their lives.

James Miller is a licensed psychotherapist and piano composer from West Palm Beach, FL. He has been in the mental health field for 23 years as a Subject Matter Expert that has worked in all types of clinical settings including prisons, residential treatment centers, outpatient clinics, universities, partial hospitalization programs, including a private practice in the Washington, DC.

From the age of three, James had been a performer. He is an actor, talented singer, piano composer and regularly performs in front of thousands on live television events. James currently has two instrumental albums, Consolation and Restoration, that are heard around the world, and will soon release his third album.

James has merged his passion for self-development, and his love as a performer, by creating his brand James Miller Lifeology™. The Lifeology™ Show started as daily YouTube episodes that evolved into podcasts and national syndicated radio show that reaches over 3 million listeners per episode. James is known for his infectious laugh and relaxed manner in explaining why people do what they do. He teaches practical tools and techniques to help people focus on what truly matters in order for them to live their fullest life.

For more information: <https://www.jamesmillerlifeology.com>

Brushwood Media Group is your premiere full-service public relations, production and management company.

We produce and accomplish "Dynamic Public Relations" that supports our clients' objectives and communicates their messages effectively.

Since 1976, we have delivered results for successful professionals, corporations and non-profit organizations. What sets Brushwood Media Group apart from other agencies is our nationwide staff of creative thinkers who stop at nothing to get the job done. Our work will complement and enhance your reputation and build your business to impact your bottom line. It will reach your audiences locally, nationally and internationally to get you noticed.

We share the story of you and your business. We formulate and implement effective public relations strategies and tactics. We excel at media relations and build relationships on your behalf with traditional media as well as social media.

Media Contact

Brushwood Media Group

sdecker@brushwoodmediagroup.com

855-352-9347

701 Market Street, Suite 111-5023, St. Augustine, FL 32095

Source : The Lifeology Show with James Miller

See on IssueWire