

James Pratt Shines in New York City

New York City, Mar 16, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - That was so inspiring, very impressive. That was Gianna Marie, a local New York resident after speaker James Pratt left the stage at Italk New York at the recent iTalk innovative leadership conference in Manhattan. Pratt who is Australia's number one real estate auctioneer and a star movie entrepreneur made a strong impression talking on why ambition and taking risks is so important to success.

The sold-out event which was held at the Ogilvy Chocolate Factory building in Manhattan, NYC, was sponsored by Comcast NBC Universal and featured high profile USA speakers alongside Australian Pratt, The speakers included, Ali Levine (Bravo TV) Philly Freeway (Roc Nation) Jalen James Acosta (Musician) Preity Üpala (Former Miss India) and Comcast VP Shaun Levitt. The red carpet was hosted by TV personality Jennifer Tapiero and Getty Images.

The impressive keynote speakers individually spoke on leadership within their fields and drew on their own personal journey to success, with each sharing the key takeaways which have helped them succeed at the very top level.

Pratt, who spoke on dreams and ambition, described his own story of ambition, finishing college then being stuck in a very dangerous place, down to his last $15 and with no family help once he turned 18- to now, present-day- having sold over 11 billion dollars of luxury real-estate worldwide, holds 47 luxury real estate records, was the 2019 REB Australian Auctioneer of The Year, 2018 Australian Thought Leader of The Year Finalist, is a film entrepreneur, well-known TV personality and the first person in the world to auction luxury real-estate with blockchain and cryptocurrency

Fellow keynote speakers, Bravo TVs Ali Levine and Musician Jalen James Acosta also shared their admiration for James on social media, describing the Australian as extraordinarily talented and his speech motivational.

Pratt, finished his speech by sharing a heartfelt story from 5 years ago when he caught an uber ride from Glendale in Los Angeles to Beverly Hills at 2 am one morning, he described the lady who was the driver, a 61-year whom told him she was driving uber for 6 months to save enough money to start her own catering business (her dream she always wanted to do), she only could drive at night because in the day the roads in LA were too busy for her, Pratt described looking her up 5 years later to see the now 66-year-old was in charge of 159 people and had her own catering empire in California. This lady was so inspiring and followed her passion, he said.

ITalk New York is part of the ITalk events group which was co-founded by Jen Donnell, she describes it as, where Pop Culture, Leadership Content and Stage Drama collide. The enormous popularity of these conferences in the US has seen ITalk announce they will be going globally this year with ITalk London next.

IG James_pratt7

www.jamespratt.me

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZRZmL1_O0mc

Media Contact

42 West

Tara@42west.co

Source : James Pratt

See on IssueWire