

Jeevika Sharma and her Lifestyle

Mumbai, Mar 22, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - We all have seen Jeevika Sharma literally living with royalty in photoshoots for W for Woman which is now a Household name and where W embarks on a responsible fashion journey and aims to address the need to make responsible choices towards fashion and the concepts of responsible living that should be incorporated in every aspect of life. Sounds like the exact brand made for hard-working women like Jeevika Right??

With all the looks and great style, this MBA girl thought to market herself and literally gained success under her feet! though. Things were not that easy and it did take a while to start for Jeevika but slowly she got in touch with famous brands and started grabbing eyeballs with the creative content. Well, we can see that her content is mostly a reflection of her own personality.

Jeevika Sharma who has completed her Master of Business Administration in Marketing.

She is literally living the life which is still being imagined by many and where many people are still thinking what to do Jeevika has made smart choices in her life by professionally being an immigration consultant and a professional tarot card reader.

Jeevika has around 75,000 followers on Instagram, with a feed full of fashion and lifestyle. Jeevika's spirit of fighting with herself to show the world that she is the best in what she does and has literally made her reach to this level today. She says "What works best for me is working harder than yesterday."

Her sincerity towards work and leaving personal life and emotions behind has given her the best recognition as epicurean confessions and we can truly see that in the increasing numbers of followers she has.

She says The fashion industry has lately seen a change, thanks to the growing demand of social media and using it for marketing purposes because of which it has given birth to many influencers who are on the internet today whether it is tik tok, Instagram, Facebook.

HardWork is the key to success!!

Jeevika faced a lot of obstacles initially, and it was hard to get brands for collaborations but her solid network and motivation by a close friend who she calls "bakra" changed things and eventually, She started creating a lot of content thus building a strong audience on the internet. Believe it or not, she has even got tons of Daniel wellington watches. Jeevika Also gets a lot of packages from reputed brands, designers and start-ups. But, there goes a lot more hard work and authenticity in creating a brand that people choose to be influenced by.

Sharma is always occupied in setting posts for her beloved audience where she needs to make sure that the pictures clicked are at the right location with the right outfit and trust us we know It is not a cakewalk to leave personal life and monetize your talent and establish oneself as a brand.

One can contact her even for Tarot Card readings.

Media Contact

Press0media

0press01media@gmail.com

Source : Epicurean Confessions

See on IssueWire