Los Angeles, May 1, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Rave Wonderland (<https://www.ravewonderland.com/>) a supplier of rave outfits has restocked their face masks in light of the COVID-19 outbreak.

The COVID-19 continues to threaten the world. People are staying inside their homes to avoid the contraction of the virus. The government continues to advise the citizens to wear masks to halt the spread of the outbreak until treatment is available.

Wearing Masks to Prevent Infection

The Centers for Diseases Control and Prevention recommend using cloth masks when going to public settings. Groceries, pharmacies, and shopping marts are places where social distancing is hard to implement. The use of surgical masks and N-95 respirators must be for the protection of health care workers and medical first responders.

Use of Cloth Masks in Public

There are no data that backs the use of cloth masks is effective in preventing the spread of COVID-19. Some cities are setting penalties for violators who fail to wear a mask when going out to the public. Protecting the nose and the mouth is crucial in the prevention of the virus. The penalty for this violation can reach up to $1,000.

Masks in Flattening the Curve

The measures the government is implementing aims to flatten the curve. The use of cloth masks can help to slow down the spread of the coronavirus. There is a fear of the increasing number of infected patients as the health care system capacity is threatening to collapse.

The World Health Organization previously advise people not to wear masks. Last February, the U.S. surgeon general warns the people who hoard the medical masks from the pharmacies in an attempt to reserve it to the health workers who are dealing with infected patients.

Sick With No Symptoms

The number of asymptomatic people continues to increase. These are sick people who do not show any symptoms and unconsciously transmit the virus to their surrounding people. As an attempt to halt the spread of asymptomatic people, even people who do not have cough must wear a mask.

Wearing a mask is crucial when going to public places, especially going to grocery stores. It is inevitable to shop for essential goods. It is why there is a need to wear face masks in public because the interaction between people is still on-going. Social distancing is tough to impose due to several factors. Aside from wearing a mask and implementing social distancing, a lot can help to slow the spread of coronavirus.
