

Lovari Billboard Chart Followup Includes Remakes of Annie Lennox & Sarah McLachlan

New York City, Apr 12, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Singer/actor Lovari has released his new album "Moment Of Love", the followup to his Billboard Top 25 Dance Club single "No Day Like Today", with performances at NYFW (New York Fashion Week) and Celebrity Boxing in Atlantic City. The collection has reached #2 on iTunes USA Electronic Albums Chart.

Singer/actor Lovari, whose recent duet with Adam Barta "No Day Like Today"(with accompanying music video starring "Real Housewives Of New Jersey"), which reached the Top 25 Billboard Dance Club Play singles chart, has released his new album "Moment Of Love" on Valentine's Day, February 14th. The collection has reached #2 on iTunes USA Electronic Albums Chart and #38 on iTunes USA Pop Albums Chart.

Lovari has released two music videos simultaneously to promote the project - an EDM cover of Sarah McLachlan's "Plenty" and a house music interpretation of Annie Lennox's "Wonderful".

The album includes interpretations of songs from artists that have inspired Lovari throughout his life. While many of the artists have worldwide recognition, the particular tracks chosen may not be recognized by the casual listener. "Some of the songs on the collection are personal favorites of mine that were not released as singles at all, such as Sarah McLachlan's 'Plenty' and Mary J. Blige's 'My Loving', which to me, are stunning works. Some were not released as singles in the U.S. and only in limited territories, such as Annie Lennox's 'Wonderful' and La Bouche's 'Moment Of Love'. Each one is deeply personal to me and has helped navigate me through situations in my life."

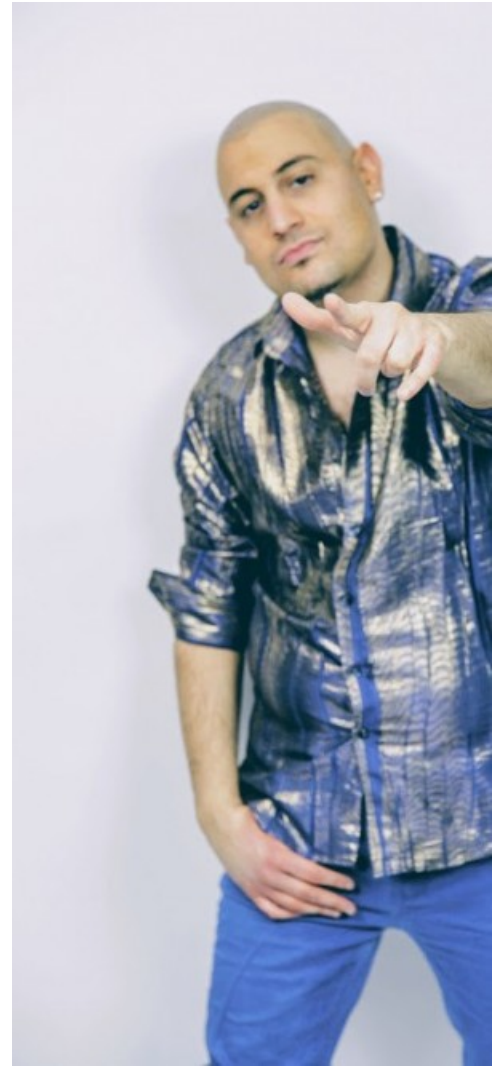

The promotion of the album included a performance at New York Fashion Week for the closing night showcase of designer Andres Aquino's collection and an Atlantic City performance at Showboat for "Celebrity Boxing". In addition, the horror film "The Barn 2", scheduled for a fall release, includes Lovari in the main cast.
