Get to know Hematologist-Oncologist Dr. Rohan Gupta, who serves patients in Texas.

New York City, Apr 29, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Dedicated to providing comprehensive medical oncology treatment to his patients, Dr. Gupta has a special interest in solid tumors, multiple myeloma, lymphomas, and leukemia. He sees patients at The Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders with offices in Fort Worth - Central Campus and Burleson, Texas.

In his whole-person approach, Dr. Gupta takes time with each patient and works closely with a team of radiation oncologists, surgeons, nurses, dieticians, patient navigators, and other support staff to ensure that each individual receives a customized treatment plan. He utilizes the latest anti-cancer agents, including chemotherapies, immunotherapy, targeted therapy, and clinical trials, which allows him to create up to date treatment plans that focus on each patient's personalized needs and nurture their recovery.

"I believe true healing comes by the nourishment of the mind, the body, and the soul. Cancer is a disease that not only affects the patient but also his or her family and friends. When I meet with you, together you and I will make a multidisciplinary plan that will incorporate your individual needs, treatment goals, cultural and religious preferences. In the new era of 'omics' of medicine, I keep focusing on precision medicine in regards to cancer prevention, early detection, and treatment intervention. I believe prompt evaluation, excellent communication, and building long-term relationships with my patients, their families, and referring physicians are the keys to providing exceptional patient care" as stated by the doctor.

Following the completion of his bachelor's degree in Human Biology at the University of Texas in Austin, Dr. Gupta went on to receive his Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree from the University of North Texas Health Science Center, Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine in Fort Worth. Following medical school, he completed his internship and residency in internal medicine at the University of Texas at Houston. He then went on to pursue his postdoctoral fellowship in hematology and oncology at UCLA Harbor and City of Hope National Medical Center in Duarte, California where he served as a Chief Fellow.

While at MD Anderson and City of Hope National Medical Center, Dr. Gupta was constantly engaged in the improvement of cancer treatment. He has successfully published his research work in several journals, including the Journal of Clinical Oncology, the American Journal of Clinical Oncology, and The Oncologist. Additionally, he has given several presentations at national and international cancer meetings such as the American Society of Clinical Oncology, the American Society of Hematology, and the European Society of Medical Oncology on lung cancer, colon cancer, and hematologic malignancies.

The recipient of the prestigious ASH award for his work in myeloproliferative neoplasms, he is board-certified in internal medicine, oncology, and medical oncology by the American Board of Internal Medicine, which is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world. He is also board-eligible in hematology radiation.

Hematology is the branch of medicine concerned with the study of the cause, prognosis, treatment, and prevention of diseases related to blood. Oncology is a branch of medicine that deals with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of cancer. A hematologist-oncologist is a physician who specializes in the diagnosis, treatment, or prevention of blood diseases and cancers such as iron-deficiency anemia, hemophilia, sickle-cell disease, leukemia, and lymphoma.

On a more personal note, Dr. Gupta lives with his wife and daughter in Irving and loves the area. In his free time, he likes to play cricket, spend time with his family, and travel. He is also committed to weekly volunteer services in his local area.
