

Independent Pop Singer-Songwriter Melissa Otero to Release new Cover Song “Des Larmes”

The upcoming new release “Des Larmes” showcases Melissa Otero’s hypnotic voice and powerful positive energy, delivered in her first French single.

Paris, May 1, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Melissa Otero records and performs uplifting and emotionally-charged multilingual Indie and Latin Pop. With a new album on the way, the first glimpse of its mesmerizing sound is due out on May 15th, the single “Des Larmes”. “Des Larmes” is originally by French vocalist Mylène Farmer, who has been an influence on Melissa. This will set the stage for the album "Antología", Melissa's third. It is also her first full-length multi-language album with songs in English, Spanish and French, a celebration of her cross-cultural appeal.

"I am very excited to have my first French single," commented the passionate artist. "I love my French audience very much and it is amazing to be able to do a classic song for them – and for others who find French pop enticing like I do."

Plans for the near future include the summer single "Summertime Romance", an original song with 80's vibes, electropop, synth waves diving into the heart-racing topic of unforgettable summer romances. Expect a lyric video for "Summertime Romance" to be released on June 12th exclusively on VEVO. June 12th will also see Melissa's new album "Antología" drop.
