Biography

Born Thurman W. Brown in the dirty south of New Orleans, one of fourteen brothers and sisters I was sent from foster home to foster home until I came out west to California at an young age. By coming to the south home of jazz and down home blues, and the hip hop artists, Meats 2 I have always had music in my blood, and when I got Brent Hopper it was on, I got doing show and recording and that was in the 90's I released an CD on Powerhouse Records that gave me the chance to show my hip hop/ rap skills.

My music is all about having a good time, and when you hear my songs you will see that it's all about having a good time, and enjoying the little things in life. My rap is not about killing anybody, it's this way that way having fun every day, and making people happy and feeling good. That's what makes me feel good to let people know that you don't have to throw your life away to fit in with other people.

I was influenced by the work of Too Short and Scar face my music is different carrying with it a lot of the southern flavor from the west coast, dirty south style. I've been sleeping at clubs in LA, but would like to do more work that that is my goal.

I have three songs in a new movie call Severe Inn that will be release 2010 on Legion Films and one of the songs is 24 on my chevy which was number one on the billboard charts on my record label and for four weeks. I signed a record deal with Platinum Records / Burego Universal Music and my single was released July 6, 2010 name I Let em bang.
