

Ali bin Towar Al-Kuwari announces the grand collaboration of Netflix and Ooredoo Tv

Doha, Jun 11, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Fulfilling the desires of the viewers, Ooredoo TV has partnered with Netflix to bring the streaming service of this platform to the common people of Qatar. As per the schedule, the programs of Netflix will be made available to the television platform from 10th June. The famous writer, television personality, and Qatari TV presenter Ali bin Towar Al-Kuwari who also happens to be the brand ambassador of Ooredoo Qatar, recently featured in an advertisement for the collaboration of Netflix and Ooredoo. With this advertisement, Ali bin Towar made the audience know about the collaboration through the channel.

According to the Director of Public Relations, Sabah bin Rabia Al-Kuwari, the viewers will now be able to enjoy the wide range of shows, web series, movies, documentaries, and various other programs from June 10. The complete details on the collaboration are also scheduled to be announced on the mentioned date. Now, the viewers will be able to watch international content at the convenience of their homes, with just a single click of their TV remotes. The wait is finally over for the citizens of Qatar. Audiences can visit the social media platforms of the channel for more details.

Follow Ali Bin Towar Al-Kuwari on Instagram

Media Contact

DIGITAL BOY

goutamsuj@gmail.com

Source : DIGITAL BOY

See on IssueWire