

Defeat COVID-19 with Halmo's car-specific sanitizer dispenser CARhandGEL

Bologna, Jun 15, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - The COVID-19 pandemic has forced people to change their habits and become extra cautious in whatever work they are performing. Sanitization of hands as well as all the things of day-to-day use has now become everyone's priority. Sanitization is also needed while driving a car and that is why Halmo has introduced its new CARhandGEL, which will save you from the Coronavirus while being in your car. It is the first of its kind car-specific sanitizing gel dispenser that has been designed to fit all kinds of cars available in the market as it can be easily placed inside the car's cup holder.

The material of the dispenser is made up of high-quality hard plastic to ensure that it doesn't get damaged under rough conditions. The CARhandGEL can also be customized with any graphical design according to individual needs. On placing the order, you will be provided with the first refill of Italy made sanitizing gel of 150 ml, consisting of 65% alcohol. The dispenser is designed in such a way that if the temperature inside the car rises to a considerably high level then the sanitizing gel will evaporate in small doses through its vent valve, making sure that the gel doesn't deform or the dispenser doesn't explode on hot days of summer.

The dispenser is washable and removable to make sure that you can maintain the hygiene level. After the gel finishes, you can easily remove the pump and refill it with a new CARhandGEL. With this gel dispenser, you can always be sure of not getting infected by the virus through your hands, which is very much necessary in breaking the chain. Visit the official website to place your first order and drive away your fear of getting infected.
