Jason Schottel, PhD, ARNP-C, MBA, ABAAHP, FAAMFM, a Metabolic & Regenerative Medicine Doctor with Anti-Aging & Regenerative Associates

New York City, Jun 30, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Schottel, is a board-certified advanced registered nurse practitioner and is the owner and operator of Anti-Aging & Regenerative Associates in Port Orange, Florida.

Anti-Aging & Regenerative Associates is an integrative medical practice that centers on providing its patients with a holistic and integrative approach to maximizing their health and wellness through the utilization of techniques centered on molecular biology, cellular physiology, and neurochemistry. The anti-aging portion of the company focuses on men's and women's hormone replacement as well as advanced endocrinology. The regenerative portion of the company centers on the restoration of health through the utilization of internal medicine, neuro-endocrinology, IV infusion therapy, physiotherapy, acupuncture, and chiropractic medicine. Additional regenerative therapies include stem cell injections as well as antioxidant, amino acid, NAD+, and vitamin/mineral injections.

Born in New York and raised in Jacksonville, Dr. Schottel played minor league professional football for the Jacksonville Bandits and Brunswick Tigers. He received his medical training from Saba University School of Medicine and his Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree from Wilmington University. He also holds a Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree from Davenport University, a Doctor of Chiropractic (DC) degree from Palmer College of Chiropractic, and a Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) degree from South University. His sub-specialization is metabolic cardiology and regenerative medicine.

A Diplomate of the American Board of Anti-Aging Health Practitioners (ABAAHP), the doctor is a Fellow of the Anti-Aging, Metabolic and Functional Medicine (FAAMFM). He is also a member of the American Academy of Anti-Aging Medicine and the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners.

On a more personal note, Dr. Schottel holds a national and world title in powerlifting.
