

Get to know Naturopathic Doctor Dr. Delythe Lowry-Charles

Delythe Lowry-Charles, BCND, FMP, CMH, Hlr, a Naturopathic Doctor with The Naturopath Connection – Natural Health Services, Education & Research Group

New York City, Jun 10, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Dr. Lowry-Charles is a respected Board Certified Naturopathic Doctor (American Naturopathic Medical Certification Board) with a three-tier virtue practice in Connecticut, Florida & Virginia and available anywhere in the USA.

She specializes in comprehensive, proactive, and preventative health delivery platforms and combines holistic healing methods with traditional solutions. Her expertise is in intuitively understanding the spiritual and physiological influences, patterns, cycles and root cause(s) that disrupt the natural balance in the human composition and then creating a client-centered regeneration plan that will naturally heal, optimize health, and engage clients in building a better relationship with their all-around well-being.

She founded The Naturopath Connection – Natural Health (Alternative | Integrative) Services, Education & Research Group in 2013, and has successfully helped clients using specialized, proven, and individually tailored holistic natural remedies, alternative healing arts, and integrative therapeutics to promote whole-body wellness.

Seeking to bring wholeness, Dr. Lowry-Charles practices and consults with clients in a therapeutic partnership environment in support of their natural health, well-being, and spiritual goals. She uses the core values and strengths of the group to not only connect to her client base and colleagues but to also serve as an influencer and public awareness speaker in the surrounding communities to empower individuals that fall short of quality health care.

With over 10 years experience of natural healing arts, holistic philosophies, energy medicine, pharmacy, emergency, allied health and specializations that include functional medicine, kinesiology, holistic iridology, clinical herbology, and botany; she continually commits to industry development and looks forward to expanding the personalized approach, and transformational services that will strengthen | heal the spirit, mind, and body connection.

Furthermore, the doctor is board certified through the American Naturopathic Medical Certification Board, which is proud to be a distinguished certifying organization for natural health care providers throughout the United States.

The practice of naturopathy includes modern and traditional, scientific, and empirical methods. Naturopathy is a distinct primary health care profession, emphasizing prevention, treatment, and optimal health through the use of natural therapeutic methods and substances that encourage individuals' inherent self-healing process. Naturopathic doctors focus on prevention and root cause identification of acute and chronic imbalances to understand, restore, and establish optimal health.
