PERMISSION to LAND

Searching for Love, Home & Belonging

MARCI BROCKMANN

Smithtown, Jun 5, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - “PERMISSION TO LAND: SEARCHING FOR LOVE, HOME & BELONGING,” written by Kings Park/ Smithtown resident, Marci Brockmann, has been nominated for a 2020 Author Academy Award, an honor bestowed for literary merit and publishing excellence in the writing and publishing industry.

Marci Brockmann’s book is up for an award in the memoir category, which is a highly personal work of deep reflection and mesmerizing storytelling, Brockmann explores her own life backwards, through her thirty-plus years of journals, to finally come to terms with her mother’s tragic death from drug addiction, her own disillusionment and loneliness as a result of her mother’s mental illness, as well as her neglect as a result of her parents’ divorce. These traumas cast her into a tailspin as she desperately searched for the love and belonging she longed for and a safe place to land and call home. With relentless honesty and lively wit, Brockmann describes her disappointments and pain as well as her discoveries and successes. As she struggled to make a meaningful, creative life for herself, she learned that she isn't alone, unloved or homeless after all.

Permission to Land: Searching for Love, Home & Belonging will inspire readers to rethink their own ideas about love, home, and connection.

“Hundreds of books from authors throughout the world are up for an Author Academy Award,” said Kary Oberbrunner, founder of Author Academy Elite and the Author Academy Awards. “Our goal is to help further connect this global community of authors, maintain excellence and integrity of the book publishing industry, and raise awareness that the stories being told and the authors who write them are worth our attention.”

Entries are being reviewed and evaluated on popular vote, social contribution, and overall presentation (cover, content, flow, and originality) by the Academy's voting membership comprised of best-selling authors, literary agents, and industry leaders.
