

Stazthehokage presents "MAYHEM 2020"

Mayhem Is Coming

New York City, Jun 25, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Stazthehokage (STAZ-THE-HO-KA-GAE), is a mixed genre artist who's talents experiments hip hop, pop, trap and so much more. He has released his experimental electronic emotional EP on all platforms called "VOUNÓ". With him expanding his skills on "MAYHEM" he will soon be delivering a hard-hitting combo of grinding beats, moody crooning, ethereal production, hardcore trap tunes, and in-your-face rhymes. The vision is getting clearer and clearer.

Staz says his next collection--which he already has named "Mayhem"--will unfold the stories told on VOUNÓ and maintain the space and the echoes that VOUNÓ provided. Although it will have a few light-hearted tracks, it will also show a more aggressive side of Staz and be new ground.

"Mayhem will have an electric feeling to each track," says Staz. "It's going to be phenomenal."

"I will be focusing on using mixed-genres to tell a story of a heart-broken boy, on how he deals with his emotional suffering mentally. With the way he tells his story, he creates reality known as "MAYHEM" - through this reality he goes through the detailing of his pain and watches how the world around him crashes to nothing but rubbles. Through this journey, he encounters certain individuals who are known as copycats, phonies, and etc. In the mental state of "MAYHEM," the city has fallen, where the boy himself goes through certain journeys with MISFITS - causing havoc in the city such as robbing banks, striking down gang leaders, taking control of other cities, and in a way ruling the world. Through his venture he encounters an enemy at strikes him down in a coma, through that coma he flashes back to the time that he used to be in love. In these flashbacks, he describes the pain of a failing relationship he used to be in."
