

The Blazing Soundscape of Heavy Metal Band Paradox Rift Overwhelms the Audience with Its High Atomic Energy

Armed with their unique experimental death groove metal vibe, Paradox Rift is ready to break into the mainstream presenting a collection of fiery compositions.

Cleveland, Jun 8, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Being tired of the monotonous and slow rhythmic cadence of the contemporary musical genres, the rebels of the musical universe gave birth to the brave and fierce genre of heavy metal in the 70s'. Like a crash of thunder, popular metal band Paradox Rift has introduced their exuberant, overdriven guitar, energetic drumming in their latest creations like 'Heaven's Moat' and 'Molt', that defines their fiery rage infused with raw passion. The fierce headbanger creations are opulent with catchy and addictive rhythmic flow producing an outstanding symphony of ornamented melodies.

Based in Ohio, the bold band has established a powerful presence in the underground scene with their unique pomp combined with their iconic hypercharged melodic treatment. Mastering the art of spastic creativity, the band has incorporated their inimitable artistry in their newest song 'Fixion' employing some wall-rumbling drum beats infused with heavily amplified electric-guitar riffs to craft an ethereal acoustic experience.

Armed with the forceful vocals, the band asserts their new breed of aggressive music forming a bond among the various metal subgenres to unleash their progressive twists and grooves onto the world. Their hit songs 'Heaven's Moat', 'Fixion', and 'Molt' exude a lingering insistent melodic charm interlaced with the passionate libretto defines their benchmark underground style. Molding their rollercoaster riffing with some polished and groovy drum beats in their other songs like 'Figmentate' and 'Center of Collapse', Paradox Rift is destined to make a permanent place among the elites of the industry.
