Get to know Hospitalist Dr. Anthony J. Macchiavelli, who serves patients in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

New York City, Jul 29, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Dr. Macchiavelli is a well-versed hospitalist who is affiliated with AtlantiCare Regional Medical Center, Atlantic City Campus in New Jersey. A member of Geisinger, some of the services found/offered at the site include ambulatory care, comprehensive stroke center, emergency department, imaging, inpatient care, level II trauma center, pharmacy, and regional psychiatric crisis center.

A disabled American veteran, Dr. Macchiavelli learned to navigate the VA system after a serious injury ended his military career in 1985 — just two years after he graduated from West Point. The VA's vocational rehabilitation program sent him to medical school, where he graduated with his medical degree from the Lewis Katz School of Medicine at Temple University in 1996. He then went on to complete his internship and residency at Graduate Hospital.

A Fellow of the American College of Physicians (FACP) and a Fellow in Hospital Medicine (FHM), the doctor is board-certified in internal medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM). The ABIM is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world.

Hospital medicine is a medical specialty that exists in some countries as a branch of internal or family medicine, dealing with the care of acutely ill hospitalized patients. Physicians whose primary professional focus is caring for hospitalized patients only while they are in the hospital are called hospitalists.
