

Infertility? The path to motherhood

Kharkiv, Jul 7, 2020 (Issuewire.com) -

Infertility? A terrible diagnosis that no one wants to hear towards himself. But, fortunately, we live in the 21st century and many problems are now being successfully resolved.

Feskov Human Reproduction Group is one of the leading Ukrainian reproductive clinics. The company was founded in 1995, and in 2005 a successful program was implemented using a surrogate mother. The company is a member of the European Society for Human Reproduction and also has a US patent for an invention in the treatment of infertility. What sets the company apart from others in this area is guaranteed surrogacy programs that give 100% results. Highly qualified specialists in the process of work in the clinic, constantly improve their skills, conduct scientific activities, participate in international conferences. High-precision technologies, full-fledged own infrastructure, own donor base, legal support, responsible approach to work, concern for the result, individual approach, affordable prices are what attract our customers and work on our image.

Feskov Human Reproduction Group is constantly developing new methods of treatment, in particular, it boasts a method of in vitro fertilization wherein the embryo is implanted into the patient's uterus three to twelve months after the eggs are taken from the patient to reduce the effect of autoreaction (immune rejection of the embryo by the patient's immune system and increase successful pregnancy); before implantation of the embryo, the endometrium is prepared by introducing peripheral blood mononuclear cells (PBMC) into the uterus. The procedure is accompanied by cryopreservation methods to save the patient's oocytes or embryos obtained by IVF.

In the context of COVID-19 pandemic, the clinic successfully introduced distance programs of services, when it is not necessary to come to Ukraine. You can carry out the necessary procedures in your country or in another one of your choice.
