

Mason SBDC Offering Free Services for Manassas City and Manassas Park Businesses

Counseling and Training available online through Phase 3. Mason SBDC will continue support to city-wide businesses without disruption through virtual appointments and schedules.

Fairfax, Jul 29, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - The Mason Small Business Development Center (Mason SBDC) headquartered in Fairfax City, announces the continuation of no-cost business counseling and training services to the small business community in the City of Manassas and Manassas Park. The organization will continue support to city-wide businesses without disruption through virtual appointments and schedules.

The program as part of a collaborative agreement with the City of Manassas Economic Development Authority expanded its services to downtown Manassas in January of 2019. George Siragusa, Mason SBDC Senior Counselor and the lead representative of the program at the Manassas city location previously provided face-to-face counseling services at the co-working space, Centerfuse by appointment only. With the ongoing challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic, the program invites businesses who have been working with Siragusa and those intending to start a business within the city, to reach out to the program to continue virtual counseling.

Manassas Park and City of Manassas businesses are encouraged to follow the steps below: -
