Singapore, Jul 1, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - CloudRedeem is now continuing its global push as Ronald Aai and Cloud 2.0 open up the Western Frontiers- Europe and the USA. While other entities are still contained and restricted by the Covid-19 epidemic, Cloud 2.0 continues to make bold strides onwards and upwards. This is being realized with CloudRedeem now surging further forwards into France and all 50 States of the United States of America, a move which substantially increases the global expansion of Cloud 2.0 innovation by Ronald Aai. This bold move of opening up these two key new markets for users marks another major milestone of Cloud 2.0's vision for worldwide coverage and expands the benefits of the Cloud 2.0 app with its groundbreaking CloudRedeem feature for more and more members around the world to enjoy. Step by step as Cloud 2.0 moves forward, members reap the benefits of this growth by being able to spend their earnings in more diverse ways, increasing both the convenience and quality of life even in the restrictive times of Covid19 that we happen to live in. This is the ultimate vision of Cloud 2.0- to bring practical groundbreaking technology to the fingertips of members globally which can then equate to a simple transferring of earnings into on-the-ground daily-life services that enhance the lives of all members on a long-term basis.

Cloud 2.0 Explores Amazon

This time the vehicle for CloudRedeem's USA and European entry is Amazon. Its not a jungle, but its sure worth exploring as Amazon's vast range of services and products are now put squarely into the hands of Cloud 2.0 members via the CloudRedeem function. Just as with other CloudRedeem offers, now French and American members can purchase Amazon vouchers right from within the app via a simple and quick process, converting their earnings directly into a practical means of spending on Amazon's impressive broad-ranging network.

What's on Amazon?

Apart from just about everything, almost anything is available on Amazon, and certainly, just about everyone has heard of the domain name “amazon.com.” In this difficult time, the food and clothing products sold on Amazon delivered straight to your door will be of particular advantage during the current pandemic season, not only reducing financial pressure but also cutting down the necessity of heading outdoors to crowded public places where the risk of infection is greater. Aside from these obvious advantages, so many other products and services are available from Amazon that no matter what the need may be, CloudRedeem can assist in helping you obtain it.

The Increasing Cloud 2.0 Global Footprint

Cloud 2.0 now covers 13 countries with its CloudRedeem feature, with plenty more on the horizon as work continues to expand the redemption service for more and more members.

In Asia, CloudRedeem currently operates via the Grab platform in Singapore, Cambodia, Indonesia, Malaysia, Myanmar, Thailand, Vietnam and the Philippines, which includes more than 500 cities and towns in the region. Grab offers a cashless payment system called GrabPay, the meal delivery service GrabFood, as well as a rideshare service. Cloud 2.0 members can directly use their Cloud app and utilize their earned CTOs to buy Grab vouchers for the food and other services offered by the Grab platform.

Similarly in Australia and the UK, members are able to enjoy Uber Ride and Uber Eats directly from the Cloud 2.0 app, with members simply converting their earnings into Uber vouchers to pay for their Uber Ride or Uber Eats order.

With CloudRedeem now integrating China Mobile, China Unicom and China Telecom into the service lineup, Chinese members are now able to conveniently utilize CloudRedeem to top up their mobile phones. Again, everything is performed with the click of a button right from the Cloud 2.0 app, enabling members to obtain top-up vouchers directly via the Cloud 2.0 app for these three leading telecommunication networks of China.

And now, with the new addition of Amazon in America and Europe, expansion is now reaching the critical mass stage where the platform for growth is well established and is also ready for more launches further afield. Cloud 2.0 members can look forward to more and more services being added as time progresses, and will discover that CloudRedeem will become a natural and invaluable part of their daily lives as Ronald Aai continues to press ahead with this revolutionary vision.
