Get to know Psychiatrist Dr. Anthony Campo, who serves patients in Boca Raton, Florida.

New York City, Aug 26, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Recognized as an established and trusted psychiatrist, Dr. Campo's treatment philosophy includes a neuro-psychiatric approach, taking into account the toxic effects of substance use on the brain and cognition. He is a strong advocate of early and accurate diagnosis and treatment of co-occurring disorders, believing they play an essential role in achieving and maintaining a sober and healthful lifestyle.

At present, he serves as the Medical Director of Caron Renaissance & Caron Ocean Drive in Boca Raton, Florida. As such, he oversees the medical department, which offers a full array of medical, psychiatric, psychological, and neurocognitive assessment and treatment.

“Caron’s work is all about healing. We aim to transform lives impacted by addiction and substance use through proven, comprehensive, and personalized behavioral healthcare solutions. We are dedicated to delivering evidence-based, gender-specific behavioral health and addiction programming, all while treating patients and families with the respect they deserve. United by compassion for every person who comes to us for help, we advocate for patients and families through personalized treatment and financial accessibility. Above all, we strive to ease the pain of addiction by restoring health, hope, spirituality and relationships, ultimately preparing individuals and families for lifelong recovery” as stated on their website.

Having been working at Caron since June of 2012, Dr. Campo previously served as the Medical Director of The Dunes, East Hampton, New York; Alternatives in Treatment in Southampton, New York and as the Medical Director of Psychiatric Emergency Services at Jersey City Medical Center and Psychiatric Emergency Access Center at Brookhaven Memorial Hospital Medical Center. He was also the Associate Medical Director at Gracie Square Hospital in New York City, and an Associate Professor of Clinical Psychiatry at the State University of New York at Stony Brook.

A 1984 graduate of St. George’s University School of Medicine, Dr. Campo completed his residency in psychiatry at Maimonides Medical Center in New York. Before long, he became board-certified in psychiatry by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, a not-for-profit corporation dedicated to promoting high-quality patient care for the public through the initial and continuing certification of psychiatrists and neurologists. He is also a Diplomate of the American Board of Addiction Medicine.

Likewise, he attained board certification in Addiction Medicine through the American Board of Preventive Medicine, a member of the American Board of Medical Specialties that issues “certificates of special knowledge” in the specialty of preventive medicine.

A Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association (FAPA) and a Fellow of the American Society of Addiction Medicine (FASAM), Dr. Campo is a member of the American Academy of Addiction Psychiatry, the Palm Beach Psychiatric Society, the Florida Psychiatric Society, the American Medical Association, the Florida Medical Association and the New York County Psychiatric Society.

A true leader in his field, he has lectured in New York, Florida, and Dubai, United Arab Emirates, on addiction and co-occurring disorders and has appeared on Fox’s Good Morning America.

Psychiatry is the medical specialty devoted to the diagnosis, prevention, and treatment of mental disorders. These include various maladaptations related to mood, behavior, cognition, and perceptions. Psychiatrists evaluate, diagnose, and treat patients with mental, emotional, and behavioral disorders. They conduct thorough psychiatric evaluations, develop treatment plans, prescribe medication, and evaluate treatment results.
