

Former News Anchor - Eunice Elliott pursues her passion to become a stand-up comedian and book writer

Journalist, Eunice Elliott leaves news desk to become a stand-up comedian and write books that promote empathy, inclusion, and empowerment.

Eunice Elliott

Available for

In-person/Virtual Interviews

Former news anchor turned book author, stand-up comedian, comedy writer

**

Has written children's book series focusing on empathy, love and inclusion lessons for young people

Learn more at www.sugarlovesbella.com

**

Has written a book of "unconventional wisdom" to help people navigate life's challenges

Learn more at www.euniceelliott.com

contact:

eunicecomedy@gmail.com

Birmingham, Aug 2, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Eunice Elliott has always been one to tell a story. After several years as a news anchor, she decided to leave the news desk earlier this year in order to tell transformative stories for young people and adults.

Eunice has authored TWO books; a children's book series, "Sugar Loves Bella" based on her two dogs and "10 Things Your Mama Never Told You, But Mine Did", a collection of unconventional wisdom to navigate life's challenges.

"I felt like my voice could be better used if I was talking about the things that matter most to me. Themes of love, empathy, inclusion, and empowerment instead of all of the worst things in the world."

Eunice is also a stand-comedian who has had to get creative in terms of performing due to CoVid19. She offers her comedic musings via her social media platforms, Zoom as well as through her podcast, "Oh No, Girl Yes", where she shares her tales of dating unsuccessfully.

Eunice can be booked for virtual/in-person (local to Birmingham, Tuscaloosa, Huntsville, Montgomery, AL) interviews to share her unique take on the world in these unique and challenging times.

"You Are So Very Special, But Remember, You Ain't Special"

"Never Dim Your Light"

"How Hard Could it Be?"

"You Can't Tell People Your Dreams In Color"

"Always Time To Do It Again"

10 Things YOUR Mama NEVER TOLD YOU, BUT Mine DID

Unconventional Wisdom to Navigate a World that Cares Nothing About
You or Your Feelings

EUNICE G. ELLIOTT

EUNICE G. ELLIOTT

This humorous collection of wisdom passed on to Eunice by her mother has served her well and she is hopeful you'll enjoy this heaping serving of uncommon common sense.

For interviews & bookings, please e-mail
eunicecomedy@gmail.com

www.euniceelliott.com

Sugar Loves Bella
BOOKS

So Much Love to Give

Eunice G. Elliott

Written by Danice G. Elliott
Illustrated by Jale Wadden

EMPATHY & INCLUSION THEMES
FOR YOUNG READERS

Sugar and Bella Books are stories based on real-life best friends. Through their books, they hope to teach the importance of acceptance, love and empathy. They also love just having a doggone good time!

For books and workshops, please email
sugarlovesbella@gmail.com
www.sugarlovesbella.com

Media Contact

Eunice Elliott

eunicecomedy@gmail.com

4048084231

Source : Eunice Elliott

See on IssueWire