

Rice's New Music Video 'Stuntin' For Da Money' Featuring AA Grand Shows His Sparkling Energy and Intensity

The up-and-coming Webster rapper Rice increases the momentum of his career with a brand-new music video called 'Stuntin' for Da Money' featuring AA Grand.

Webster, Aug 13, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - One of the biggest influence making artists of this year is the young and exceptionally creative hip hop rapper Rice who has released a new music release titled 'Stuntin' for Da Money' featuring AA Grand that shows lots of potential in him once more. He fills the rap verses with all the inspirational stories, talking about sleepless nights with eyes full of dreams and struggling. Time ticks like a time bomb and he find that hard work is the key to success in the huge industry. It shows his hunger for success and unflinching focus towards his career. The 25-year-old Webster rapper is not new in the industry. He started to grind in this industry a few years back to understand the industry and know about the in and out of music production. The journey has been extraordinary for him as he learned lots of lessons and new things about hip hop music that wasn't possible for him to know if he wasn't be doing studio records and meet other artists. The new track captures a completely different vibe where he teams up with another fresh artist and makes it about the hustle for life and money. It will be airing on the Indie Network Radio Show on September 5th at 1 pm.

Two next big stars have worked together in the summer smash music release called 'Stuntin' for Da Money'. Hustle Work Grind Records produced it and released it on July 31, 2020. They have used some strong words to produce more serious vibes that can completely reflect the staggering energy they have put while recording it. With the heavy bass flow and pleasant rhymes, they describe how they dodge temptations to make a big compromise for the budding music career. They both are headstrong rappers who talk about the confusion and thrills of taking difficult decisions, keeping their eyes on the prize i.e. success in exchange for extreme hard work. With an art cover on the screen and heavy rants, the video becomes evidence of their unflinching focus towards their passion and the unlimited faith in themselves. Both artists are young and excited to gain more experience as they soar high with more successful projects. Hiphop music is another name of creating bonding for life, most of the artists are bound with a single thread in the industry and they always reach out with wide arms to support each other in music.

The lead rapper of the project, Rice is a singer, student, and entrepreneur who wants to thrive on his creativity in the world of music with rap songs and groovy music videos. Music lets him connect with the larger audience, and share his pain to feel lighter. His struggles, intensity of passion, and sacrifices are revealed through the verses of his compositions. He is a community activist with a pure soul who never gives up fighting for a good cause. He began the long journey in the industry with Papatatzi production house that helped him to record the hit singles like 'Bet on It,' 'Big Dreams,' and 'Round it up'.
