New York City, Aug 19, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Recognized as a premier double board-certified facial plastic and reconstructive surgeon, Dr. McClane is the Founder of Chicago Plastic Surgery Center, LLC. With locations in Chicago and Hoffman Estates, she is a leader in rejuvenation and cosmetic procedures of the face and neck.

In her nearly 20 years of private practice, Dr. McClane has developed an unparalleled reputation for consistent and outstanding results while maintaining natural beauty. Always bringing her patients the latest advances, she offers a variety of facial plastic surgical procedures, minimally invasive procedures, and anti-aging treatments. Her uniquely luxurious, highly effective signature skincare line combines the art and science of skincare and leaves the skin looking and feeling beautiful.

“Our practice is dedicated to helping you to become your best self. A good balance in life is achieved through giving, receiving, and sharing. To stride easily down this path, we must take care of ourselves. An integral part of taking care of ourselves is feeling and looking our best. We believe it is important for your mind, and your spirit, to enhance and maintain your own natural beauty” as stated on her website.

Combining artistry with surgical skill, Dr. McClane tailors each treatment to meet her patients’ individual goals and needs. Alongside her highly trained professional staff, she is committed to providing each patient with a safe and outstanding treatment by giving the highest level of personal attention and care. Her local patients and out of town clients enjoy her concierge level services, attention to detail, convenience, and privacy.

Sought both for her “natural” results and for her down-to-earth and comprehensive approach, Dr. McClane holds hospital privileges at Lincoln Park Hospital, River North Center, and The Center for Facial Plastic Surgery.

In addition to being a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons (FACS), she is a member of the American Academy of Facial and Reconstructive Plastic Surgery, the American Academy of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery, the American Medical Association, and the Chicago Laryngological & Otological Society.

A 1996 graduate of the University of Louisville School of Medicine, Dr. McClane went on to complete her residency in general surgery at the University of Missouri Hospitals and Clinics in 1997. This was followed by a residency in otolaryngology-head and neck surgery at the same educational venue in 2001, and a fellowship in facial plastic and reconstructive surgery at the Mangat-Kuy Plastic Surgery Center (under the mentorship of Devinder S. Mangat, MD, FACS, Fellowship Director) in 2002.

Certified in Basic Life Support and Advanced Cardiac Life Support, the doctor is board-certified through the American Board of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery & the American Board of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery.

Throughout her line of work, Dr. McClane has served as Committee Member of Women in Facial Plastic Surgery and the American Academy of Facial Plastic & Reconstructive Surgery; Residency Liaison at the American Academy of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery; Assistant Clinical Instructor of an Advanced Science Course in Head and Neck Anatomy (1998); Mentor of the American Medical Women's Association; Teaching Assistant of a Suture Technique Course (1996-2001); Secretary of the University of Louisville School of Medicine Class of 1996 (1993-1996); Health Awareness Workshop Leader (1993); Director of the HOPE Clinic (Clinic for Homeless Families); and Volunteer on a multidisciplinary healthcare trip to rural Mexico.

Plastic surgery is a surgical specialty involving the restoration, reconstruction, or alteration of the human body. It can be divided into two main categories - reconstructive surgery and cosmetic surgery. A plastic surgeon's primary responsibility is performing surgical and non-surgical procedures, and they use a variety of reparative and reconstructive techniques to get the job done.

A published medical researcher, author and speaker, Dr. McClane strives for excellence in every area. The following quote captures her spirit. "I want to create a natural look, to rejuvenate my patients' appearance, restoring their youthful image and making them look as alive and active as they feel."

Outside of the office, her interests include jogging, scuba diving, traveling, and skiing.
